

VOTE ON CONSOLIDATION OF SCHOOLS APRIL 10

NAME TWO TOP WINNERS OF
SECTIONAL SPELLING CONTESTDecentralize Post Office Operations

Congressman Mason, of Illinois, has announced that, under the decentralization program of the Post Office department, postmasters in the six counties of his district will report directly to district managers nearer their communities, rather than to Washington.

Postmasters in Will County will report to the district manager at Chicago. Plans call for eight district managers in the tri-state region of Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin, operating under a regional manager in Chicago.

"This will eliminate one of the major bottlenecks in the postal service and will enable our own local personnel to solve local problems at the local level," Mason said. "The result will be better service, greater economy, and quicker solutions to problems."

The first regional office, covering Indiana, Kentucky, and Ohio, Mason pointed out that, in decentralizing its operations, the Post Office Department will be following the lead of most other successful large business organizations in the country, as well as the recommendation of the Hoover Commission. He added that, under this plan, field personnel will be delegated authority equal to their responsibility.

NEW FARM BUREAU PRESIDENT
URGES ACTION AT TWP. LEVEL

A forthright approach to problems and interests of the 4059 Will county Farm Bureau members was outlined yesterday by Davis Gougar, a New Lenox farmer, who was elected their president at the March 8 board of directors meeting. He succeeds Clair Hemphill, Elwood, to the post.

Mr. Gougar, who has served one year as secretary and two as director, worked out with other Farm Bureau officials a plan for township meetings. A total of 24 townships have been organized in the county. Frankfort and New Lenox members have gone together with Ray Bernard and Ben L. Martin as co-chairmen.

Everett Heatherwick is a chairman of Homer and East Lockport townships which are in the process of being organized, with another chairman yet to be chosen.

"We will try to make the policy that the farmers have asked for," said Mr. Gougar.

Marilyn Zusag of St. Jude's school, New Lenox, and Joar Louise Romano, of St. Joseph's school, Lockport, emerged as champions Monday in the sectional spellingdown held in the Haven school, New Lenox. Both are eighth graders.

Alternate winners are Greg Brown and Bob O'Neill, both of Kelvin Grove school, Lockport. They won over a field of 35 contestants from New Lenox, Frankfort, Homer and part of Lockport townships. In Will county contests, only one other section had more entries, 38 from Farragut school, Joliet.

The Will County finals are scheduled for April 3 in the Pershing school, Joliet, with 13 contests scheduled. Thirteen spellers will be named from the seven sectional contests held Monday in which 148 students competed.

The April 3 grand champion will go to Washington D. C. with a companion on an all expense paid trip. Second and third place winners will receive wrist watches and pen and pencil sets will be awarded to the sectional winners.

Two Rounds

The eager boys and girls at New Lenox had two rounds of words for warmup, before they began in earnest. Contest officials were Eugene Bondar, Joliet Junior college, and John Pence, Lockport High school, judges. John Gahala, Lockport High school, pronouncer; Ben Day Joliet Township High school, time keeper and John Oster, New Lenox public schools, manager.

Contestants were, in addition to those named as winners, Marie Zabala, Shirley Ketcham, Ernest Allen, and Bonnie Bensong of Fairmont school, Lockport; Linda Herron and Darlene DePra of Taft school, Lockport; and Ida McCain, Hildegard Schildgen and Richard Swarthout, Ludwig school, Lockport.

Carol Kirk and Sandra Wanzel represented New Lenox Public school; Stanley Barnett and Gladys Rinke, Mokena Public school; Harry Bell, Reiter school; K a r e n Bogatitus, Schmull school; Bonnie Sprout, Marley; Bonnie Nolan, Lynk school; Betty Anderson, Hadley school and Donald Wood, Ross school.

Constance Pochynok was entered from Reed school, Barbara Hansen, Goodings Grove school; Ann Hobbs, Weitendorf school; Diana Mankowski, Ann Rutledge school, Lincoln Estates, Willa Schroeder, Frankfort, and Barbara Nieman, Summit hill school.

'I Love Lucy' to
Be Given in Mokena
April 23 and 24

The spring production of the Mokena Village Players, "I Love Lucy" will be presented in the Mokena public school Friday and Saturday evening April 23 and 24.

Mrs. Virginia Sherwood is directing the play and is also playing the part of Lucy. Ricky will be portrayed by Jim Quinn while Fred and Ethel will be played by Dean Rueckert and Mildred Anderson.

The supporting cast consists of John Porick, Patricia Marcoux, Martha Jo Doyle, Henry Clark III, Bob Krenl and Nell McElveen. Beatrice Olson is doing publicity. Anyone desiring tickets for the event may contact Mrs. Olson.

"We encourage them to take an active part in the organization. It takes membership to maintain the Farm Bureau. Our township meetings were started to reach more people and help develop the policy for them."

"Taxes is one of the big issues. In our state, the farmer owns 10 per cent of the property and pays 30 per cent of the taxes. At our meetings too we will thrash out ways of obtaining better market conditions, where the farmer will be assured of a larger percentage of the consumer dollar. We welcome constructive criticism at our meetings and ideas for betterment of the organization."

Mr. Gougar attended a meeting Tuesday in Springfield, at which general policy was formulated and ways of disseminating information to members discussed. He will meet four times a year with other Farm Bureau presidents of six counties in this district.

Local Man and Woman Admit Hold
Up at Frankfort bank

The two robbers who attempted to rob the Frankfort State bank last Wednesday afternoon have been apprehended following another bank holdup at Almena, Wis., last Friday morning. They gave their names as Paul S. Hauser, 22, and Mrs. Elizabeth Helen Pady, 18, who gave their address where they were rooming as 6013 S. Ashland ave., Chicago. Mr. Hauser had been a customer of the Frankfort bank for several years and lived in New Lenox until recently.

The couple were arrested last Friday in Eau Claire, Wis., just 25 minutes after the first police radio alarm on the Almena holdup. That bank estimated the amount of money taken from them being around $12,000. The police reported finding that amount in their car when they were caught. Both admitted the Frankfort attempted robbery.

At the time of the attempted holdup at Frankfort, Mrs. Beulah Kohlhausen was the bank attendant who waited on the woman who entered first and demanded entrance. When that was refused and Mrs. Kohlhausen spoke in a loud voice to attract the attention of Al Hochberger, cashier, who a t once called the sheriff's office. During that time the man walked in and made his demand and then ran out of the bank making their getaway. It was thought after the affair that it might be work of amateurs as they paid no attention to a woman customer in the bank lobby.

An unusual accident occurred in the Warning garage in Frankfort Monday which resulted in injury to one person.

John Roberts, 62 of Lincoln Estates, a regular passenger on the Gold Star bus to his place of employment in Joliet was in the garage waiting to go on the 5:45 a. m. bus. For some unknown reason Mr. Roberts was wiping off the rear window of the bus which motor was running. The driver, Robert E. Harris, 43 of Frankfort was in the driver's seat and he accidentally hit the gear shift which moved the bus backward. Mr. Roberts then became pinned between the rear of the bus and the front of another vehicle.

FIRE CALLS

Three fire trucks, two from Orland and one from Mokena, answered fire calls Saturday evening at the Edward Wagner place at 16th street and 108th ave., where a pig shed was burning. Firemen saved three pigs from the building, but one large pig and one small one were destroyed. It is believed that faulty wiring was at fault.

IN CONTEST

Joan Bernardino, Tinley Park, took part in a talent contest among Carson Pirie Scott employees at a dinner party March 16 in celebration of the firm's centennial. It was held in the Grand ballroom of the Palmer house.

Much excitement prevailed early Tuesday evening, when a posse of about 75 county, state and suburban police joined in a battle to capture a motorist who had apparently gone beserk near he Sauk trail in Rich township.

The motorist Paul J. Pauling, 35 of Monee, who was driving east on Sauk trail, waved down a police car driving west on the same road about two blocks west of Cicero ave. Pauling stopped his car on the highway, and as Policeman Otto Svehla, 25 of Berwyn and his partner Edward Reese, 42 of 7838 Indiana ave., halted in the police car, Pauling shoved a bayonet .22 rifle into the car, with the bayonet against Reese's chest saying he was going to kill him.

At that Svehla jumped from the car and Reese, the driver, slid across the seat as Pauling raised his rifle and fired across the front of the car at Svehla. The two policemen fell to the ground and fired their revolvers at Pauling's body hitting him once in the leg. The latter then ran into the field with Reese firing at him. The policemen radioed for aid and in a few minutes policemen came from Chicago Heights, Park Forest, Matteson, Flossmoor, Homewood, Joliet and county highway policemen came from Blue Island and Homewood also.

Pauling lay in a small gully from which he fired several times, got up and ran, fired and fell and fired again. The spot lights from the cars were played on him and Joe Kedelis, 33, of 11616 Parnell avenue, of the Cook county highway police stationed at Homewood drove a patrol car then into the field toward Pauling. The latter shoved the open window of the car but Kedelis turned aside in time to avoid the fire, but the bayonet did pierce Kedelis' blouse. While Pauling was attempting to reload Kedelis shot Pauling, felling him with the third shot as Pauling ran for the policeman with the bayonet. Over 500 shots were exchanged during the fracas.

Pauling and Policeman Otto Svehla were taken to St. James hospital in Chicago Heights both being wounded. At the hospital Pauling said he didn't know why he did it and that he had no reason for anything like it. Pauling is said not to have been drinking, only vanilla extract, the physicians said.

Pauling who had received a medical discharge from the army, was a driver for his brother Elmer who operates a bakery in Lansing.

Svehla had previously experienced a fracas with bandits when he operated an ice cream parlor in Berwyn when three bandits robbed an armored car of $10,000 on July 24, 1952 and held Svehla and the armored car messenger, as prisoners.

"Our communities are growing to such an extent that the schools are over crowded. It is the responsibility of parents and others in the community to learn the facts and do something about this serious problem. We urge all to attend whether or not they have a child in school."

Vandals Raid
Homer Church

When Mrs. Wrey White and Mrs. John Loucks went to Homer church on an errand near noon last Friday, they found that vandals had entered the building via the window of the basement store room and had caused considerable damage.

Entrance was made by breaking a window pane and then unlocking the window. A light weight table beneath the window was completely wrecked and mud plastered thickly on the sill, the wall and the floor.

Mud tracks plainly showed the itinerary about the church. The intruders had gone up the back stairs to the office and then to the chancel where they scattered literature from the pulpit cupboard onto the floor. They ransacked the office desk and Sunday school. Papers and offering envelopes from it were strewn about the yard and along the road for more than half a mile.

Tracks led to two Sunday school rooms in one of which they emptied the contents of several drawers on the floor. The prowlers apparently left through the back door which can be unlocked from the inside. It was closed but unlatched.

There seemed to be too many tracks for one person, but it could not be told just how many. The only things missed aside from the Sunday school papers, was a hat which had been left at the church and a small clock from the desk. Whether money was being sought, or as seems most probable, it was a case of plain vandalism, is not known.

Deputy Otto Konow was notified and he called the sheriff's office. Deputies came late Friday and took finger prints.

SCHOOL DIST. 155 SEEKS TO

Recovery From Severe Burns

Harry Bowers, or Jimmy as he is known in his home neighborhood of Wooded Estates, is a firm believer in miracles.

Just a year ago he was taken to Silver Cross hospital with more than half his body a solid mass of burns. Doctors thought he wouldn't live.

In his home at 159th and 113th ct. he had fallen asleep with a lighted cigarette in his hand. The first thing he knew, the family cat was scratching him and he realized the chair and his clothing were afire. He carried the chair outside to save the home, but his clothing was burned completely off.

Jimmy has spent more than eight months in the hospital. After dozens of skin grafts he was well enough to come home, with visits to the hospital for treatments.

Now, just a year later, he has returned to his job with a Clearing manufacturing company, thankful for a miraculous recovery.

Consolidation of two Frankfort township school districts will be voted on at elections set for April 10.

The Rahm school district 155, southeast of Frankfort on Sauk trail has petitioned through its board of directors to become a part of Frankfort public school district 157.

According to County Superintendent Verne E. Crackell, the action is being taken because the Rahm school has for two years failed to operate and would automatically be dissolved according to law, July 1, 1954.

The number of pupils, it was said, has declined to the point where it no longer pays to keep the school open. Students have been attending the Frankfort school with tuition paid by their own school board.

The petition presented to the Frankfort school board contained 269 signatures of legal voters within the contiguous territory, 69 more than are required.

Supt. Crackell examined the petition and according to the duties of his office ordered elections to be held for or against the proposition to establish a community consolidated school district.

Precincts established are No. 1 the Frankfort public school for voters in district 157 and No. 2, the Rahm schoolhouse for those in 155 with hours of voting set at 12 noon to 7 p.m. in each instance.

The consolidation would affect the tax rate for both districts. Property valuation in the Rahm district is $904,343, the education rate being .337 without a building tax rate. In the Frankfort district, the valuation is $2,895,227 with the present education rate .90; building tax rate .14; and the rate for outstanding bonds is .109 for Frankfort, with a total of 1.150 as against .337 for district 155.

This would give a combined valuation of $3,799,570, or nearly one million added to the Frankfort district.

The higher valuation is considered as an advantage to the Frankfort school, and for the Rahm school to be in a district without having to pay tuition charges. They also would have the benefits of a modern building and expanded curriculum. There is a strong sentiment in both districts for the consolidation.

A legal notice pertaining to the election appears elsewhere in this issue. The "for" and "against" proposition asks for establishment of a community consolidated district with authority to levy taxes at the rate of .90 per cent for educational purposes, and .25 per cent for building purposes and the purchase of school grounds.

Schedule Blanks on Personal Property

Cook county personal property schedule blanks are being prepared for mailing within the next 10 days according to information just released by Assessor John S. Clark.

This distribution of forms is the earliest in many years because a change in the assessment law has shortened the assessor's work year.

"The legislative change," said Assessor Clark, "has made it necessary for us to project an extremely tight schedule of operations for the 1954 personal property and real estate assessments in order to complete almost two assessments in this year. Therefore, we need the cooperation of the public in filing personal property declarations promptly."

Clark said the deadline for filing a 1954 return is April 10 or 10 days after receipt thereof. Immediately after that date, auditing of the first returns will start.

The assessor's office hopes that the "speed up" will not confuse the taxpayer who will be receiving his 1954 personal property schedule blanks and the 1953 personal property tax bill from the county collector at approximately the same time.

"Our men have been in the various neighborhoods checking and recording business and corporate values," Clark said. "A fifty percent penalty must be added by law to all assessments in the absence of a sworn return. Therefore, I urge every taxpayer to have his schedule in the assessor's office as promptly as possible. We will cooperate in every way we can, but the time element will control our closing dates."

Keep Children Off Tractors

Who's to blame when a child is hurt or killed while riding with Dad on the tractor?

Actually, it's Dad's fault—and maybe Mother should share some of the blame, says Farm Adviser Carl F. Mees. Unfortunately, placing the blame doesn't repair a broken body or bring a child back to life.

Children get such a thrill from riding on the tractor that Dad may think he's being good to the youngsters by letting them tag along. Maybe he's done it before with no serious consequences.

But look at the score in Illinois last year, Newspaper clippings gathered for the Illinois Agricultural Association show that 106 persons were injured from falling off or being run over by a tractor; 21 more were killed. If you read a newspaper, you know that many of these were small children.

So before you decide to be "good" to your youngsters by taking them on the tractor, ask yourself this question: "If my child wants to play with a loaded gun, am I being good to him if I let him have his way?"

The answer, of course, is "no" And, says Mees, the only way you can be good to your children when they plead, "Let me ride, Daddy," is to say "No."

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

The philosophy of Attorney General Herbert Brownell toward anti trust violations of "a confession is all that's necessary to square things" takes a strange turn in the used battery case.

In February of 1950 the government filed charges, both civil and criminal, against some 48 firms and individuals charged with conspiracy.

The conspiracy unfolded by government investigators was far reaching.

Several battery manufacturers, battery retailers, scrap metal dealers and National Lead agreed that the retail conspirators would sell used batteries received as trade-ins on new batteries only to scrap metal companies who were in the deal.

The scrap metal companies agreed to destroy these batteries, sell the salvaged lead only to the National Lead Company smelter. In turn, National Lead sold resmelted lead only to battery manufacturers conspiring.

The prices paid for used batteries and for salvaged lead were firmly fixed by the conspirators.

There was also another ulterior purpose behind the conspiracy.

Some small firms specialize in rebuilding used batteries, offering consumers a lower priced product, similar to recapped tires. But this conspiracy prevented movement of used batteries of battery rebuilders who compete with new battery sales.

It is interesting that this artificial restriction on the battery supply was being practiced when there was a shortage of storage batteries, due to Korea.

The conspiracy was deep. National Lead handled the refinery end of the racketeering arrangements. In the battery manufacturing end, four of the five biggest and best known manufacturers were party to the violation. On the retail side the two big national mail order and retail chains, the two big auto supply chains, and the three big tire firms were in on the deal.

And now the interesting part of this case inherited by Attorney General Brownell. In the Federal Court in Kansas City, all but two of the defendants signed a consent decree judgment in which they agree to stop racketeering.

In addition, 24 of the defendant companies pleaded nolo contendere to the criminal charge. So far no sentence has been imposed.

But criminal charges against the individual who perpetrated the conspiracy were dropped.

Obviously it is impossible to jail a corporation, so the only sentence the court can now impose are fines which will come out of pockets of stockholders, many of which were undoubtedly not aware the management was engaging in law breaking. And these officers who violated not only the law, but the confidence of their stockholders, will presumably escape all responsibility.

It now appears live conspirators can expect kind treatment from Justice Dept.

But alleged dead conspirators such as Harry Dexter White should quake in their graves not knowing what minute they will be dug up by Herb Brownell.

Screen for Nursery

A FOLDING screen is mighty handy to have in the nursery, where it can be used to keep drafts off the crib and as a shield against light, noise and activity.

Like the one in the illustration, the screen may be made in the home workshop and neatly decorated by means of decalcomanias or stencils. Panels without the nursery characters may be finished with blackboard slating material, so the pre-school child will have a place to draw.

Materials for this simple device may be obtained in any lumber yard—1 by 2-inch lumber for the framing and crossbars, Masonite

Tempered Duolux, a durable hardboard that's smooth on both sides, and the hardware. The panels, after being cut to size, are inserted in grooves which have been cut in the framing, with a power saw.

The stick-on pictures are available at paint and hardware stores, which are sources also for stencils used in hand-painted work. Major paint companies make slate surfacing material, which simply is brushed on the Masonite Duolux with a brush after the panel has been prepared with two coats of clear sealer.

Time Now to Plant Pasture Seeds

Now is an excellent time to broadcast legumes and small grasses in winter cereals or permanent grass pastures seeded, last fall.

Carl F. Mees, Farm Adviser says "Spring freezing and thawing will cover small seeds very well."

If your large seeded grasses, such as fescue, bromegrass, or orchard grass, didn't live thru the winter, sow them now.

These larger seeds should be drilled. Broadcasting usually results in disappointment.

Swift Grants $8,000 For Swine Research

Swift & Co. has made an outright grant of $8,000 to help support one phase of the swine research program at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture during the next three years.

L. E. Card, head of the animal science department at the college, said in accepting the grant that the money would be used primarily to support a research project on the nutritional requirements of pregnant and lactating sows.

Card announces the appointment of an advisory committee to help administer the project. This committee includes R. F. Elliott, Lederle Laboratories Pearl River, New Jersey; R. G. Hallemann, Swift & Co., Chicago, and F. B. Adamstone, S. W. Terrill, D. E. Becker and A. H.

Jensen, all of the University of Illinois.

Since 1941 Swift & Co. has given more than $2,250,000 in 350 grants to more than 90 institutions for basic research in animal and human nutrition. The company believes that such support of research by industry is essential if the United States is to continue progress toward building a healthier, happier and more efficient nation.

Another reason why the company supports basic research at the experiment stations is that industrial research needs a store house of basic scientific findings on which to base its own programs.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

You Might Call it a "Gravy Train"

Was reading the other day about a Maharaja in India who has a miniature electric train all made of silver. Now, maybe that's not unusual for a prince, but this fellow had it running around on an enormous dining table in the royal palace.

The twelve cars on the train are loaded with different kinds of fruits, nuts, and beverages. And the train stops automatically in front of each plate so the person sitting there can choose what he wants.

From where I sit, the Maharaja is really going to extremes to impress his guests. Around this part of the world, hospitality certainly doesn't need all those fancy trimmings.

You don't have to spend a lot of money or go to a lot of work when folks drop in. Just offer them what you have—coffee, tea, a temperate glass of beer—and let them make their own choice. They'll feel they're getting a royal welcome!

Ford engineers claim these newly-designed C-750 Series cab-forward trucks set a pattern for the industry with their wider, 3-man cabs with full-width seats. They have greater maneuverability and shorter turning radius; new, curved, one-piece windshield with 55 percent more visibility and 4-foot wide rear window. Synchro-silent transmissions do away with double clutching. This new cab-forward design makes possible almost all engine service operations from the front of the truck.

Tips on TouringBy Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Have you been postponing plans for a winter vacation because you don't belong to the skiing fraternity? Then dispel those delusions that snow is only for members of a hardy breed that appear, skis-over-shoulder, wearing tight pants and bandying phrases like "slalom" and "christiana."

Actually winter holidays have become the common property of even the sedentary, non-athletic and cautious. Winter resorts throughout the country provide special inducements to lure the non-skier. Many offer such relatively calm sports as ice skating, tobogganing and sleigh riding. Snow shoeing and hayrides are other pleasant and non-rigorous pastimes to get winter vacationists outdoors to enjoy the clean, healthy mountain air. For the camera addict, the chances for exciting candid camera and scenic shots turn a ski resort into a veritable paradise.

For those who prefer the warm indoors to any type of outdoor activity, square dancing, group singing and friendly gab fests around the open fire provide pleasant alternatives. Today's ski resorts, aiming at the family trade, offer Mom and Dad the comfort of a warm fire... rugged Junior a chance to schuss down the ski slope... older sister the fun of dancing in the recreation hall... and younger children, supervised play and instruction.

GM Builds First U.S. Gas Turbine Car

The XP-21 Firebird, first gas turbine automobile in the United States, has been announced by General Motors. In the cockpit, beneath a plastic bubble, is Test Driver Mauri Rose who put the car through shake-down paces at GM's proving grounds near Milford, Mich., and Phoenix, Ariz. The car's aerodynamic styling has an aircraft motif with a "needle" nose, swept-back delta wings and vertical tail fin.

Because the gas turbine uses large volumes of air, the Firebird has scoops on either side of the driver's cockpit and a large tail cone for exhaust gas. Its kerosene burning engine, mounted at the rear of the driver's seat, consists of two mechanically independent parts, a gasifier section and a power turbine. The power turbine delivers power to the car's rear wheels via a two-speed transmission.

The Firebird is an experiment to determine whether gas turbines will be feasible for ground vehicles.

on, in a recent speech: "Several hundred subversives have been cleaned out of the government in the past year."

Drilling Oats Will Increase Yields

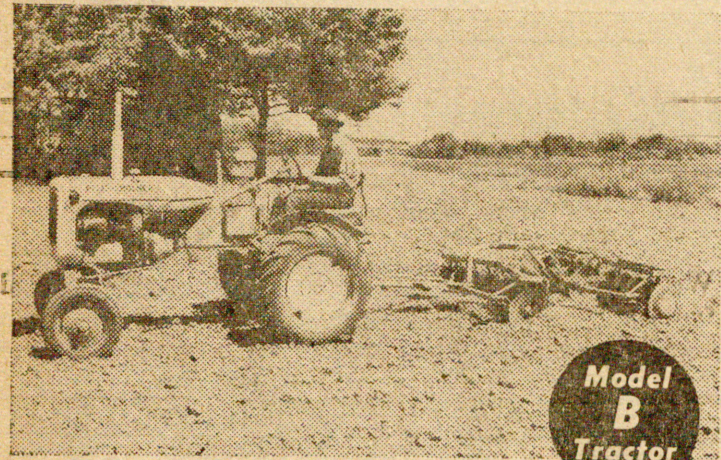

You can probably harvest five more bushels of oats an acre if you plant by drilling instead of broadcasting.

Different tests conducted by agricultural colleges since 1909 prove that drilling will give extra yields of 4.1 to 6.3 bushels an acre.

J. W. Pendleton, crop production specialist at the University of Illinois, lists eight advantages of drilling over broadcasting:

1. Yields will increase;
2. Seedlings will resist late spring freezes better;
3. Drilling takes less seed;
4. Drilling insures uniform spacing and depth of seed;
5. An even stand gives more even growth and ripening;
6. Evenly spaced oats compete more strongly with annual weeds;
7. Drilling covers the seeds;
8. You can also seed the grass legume companion crop when you drill the oats.

PNEUMONIA

By Science Features

The effects of pneumonia today aren't what they used to be. The mortality rate from this acute respiratory disease has been reduced by more than 75 per cent, from the 200,000 deaths that occurred annually in the United States two generations ago.

The duration of illness has been shortened and in many cases the need for hospitalization has been eliminated.

The doctors' best tools for this lifesaving work have been the antibiotics.

Two doctors in the Philadelphia General Hospital conducted a series of tests with children who had pneumonia. They found that the antibiotic terramycin was easy to administer and effective in all of the cases. Of the children tested, 14 had lobar pneumonia and 31 were infected with broncho-pneumonia, the two most common types.

These types of pneumonia are caused by a minute organism called the pneumococcus which travels through the respiratory system to the lungs, where it multiplies and infects the air sacs and lobes.

Among the rarer types are strep-pneumonia and staph-pneumonia, which usually come from complications of tonsillitis and influenza. There is also virus pneumonia, which can only be overcome by broad-range antibiotics like terramycin.

The first symptoms of pneumonia are the same as those of a common cold—cough, phlegm, fever and aches. It is best that prompt attention be given to these symptoms as patients treated during the first 3 days are most likely to recover.

Set Will County Meetings on Rabies

Will county officials are concerned about the rabies problem, and last Friday night held a meeting in the courthouse to do something about it.

In attendance were Dr. R. Schultz from the State Department of Agriculture, 13 of the practicing veterinarians in the county, Mead Baltz, chairman of the county board of supervisors, Dr. Louis Webb, New Lenox, Will county veterinarian, and nine supervisors from the committees on finance, health and veterinary.

A tentative action program was outlined, based on various plans suggested. Consensus of opinion was that a county rabies inspector should be appointed, and that cooperation between villages and the country section of the townships be encouraged. It was suggested that every dog vaccinated, as the law requires, bear a red tag, so that any animal not so protected could be picked up and impounded. A dog warden would be named for each township.

Dr. Schultz discussed plans used in other parts of Illinois. Dr. Webb, who is employed both by the state and county, said:

"Warm weather usually is a critical time for the spread of rabies. The disease is carried by many forms of wild life, but the dog is the main carrier. Strays will get hungry and gang up in packs, and these should be caught to protect other animals. Residents should be aware of what is happening, and establish proper places for these stray animals."

The program will receive further consideration and revision at the next meeting, scheduled for April 29.

JOHN ANDRES MAKES BIG STRIKE IN FLORIDA BUT LOSES TROPHY

Candidate for the "tough luck" award in a recent fishing tournament at Delray Beach, Fla. is John Andres, Orland Park.

He landed a 116 pound, eight foot four inch white marlin, only to have it turned down because of disqualification. The fish tied the length record of the contest.

Andres was sitting in an out-rigger chair in the "Vicamus" at Boynton inlet, and had a strike from a marlin. The big fish spit out the bait and transferred his attentions to the other out-rigger line manned by Clifford Raschke, formerly of Orland Park. Raschke hooked the marlin, but became ill after two minutes of fighting. Then Andres took over again, whipping the fish.

Rules of the tournament state that only one person may handle the rod while boating a fish, thus the ineligibility.

Future Nurses to Convene at JTHS

A first rally of Illinois Future Nurses clubs has been called by the Lockport and Joliet high school clubs to convene at 4 p. m. Friday, March 26 in the music room of Joliet Township high school. Captain Geraldine Hellen of the U. S. Air force will be the speaker.

Reports on club activities will be heard, an air force movie shown and refreshments served by the Advisory board of Silver Cross hospital and the woman's auxiliary to the Will-Grundy County Medical society.

Invitations have been sent to the 16 clubs known to be functioning in Illinois, also to any girls who might be interested in forming a Future Nurses club in their high school.

Using a Hand Saw

HERE are some good tips about using a hand saw. They were prepared by the National Safety Council.

1. Keep the saw sharp, teeth properly set and clean.
2. Use a cross-cut saw for cutting across the grain, a rip saw with the grain.
3. Start the cut with two long slow pulls up, guiding with the thumb. (See drawing.) Then get the hand away and go ahead.
4. To prevent sticking, keep the blade true with the cut. In wet or gummy wood a little oil or paraffin may help.
5. Don't "ride" the saw. If it doesn't cut well, it may need sharpening or setting.
6. If you use one knee to steady the work, watch your balance.
7. Saw teeth can make a worse cut than a sharp knife. Handle with care.

Lamb Curry Is Glamorized With Pineapple Tidbits in Rice Ring

Salted almonds and coconut are delicious accompaniments.

Impart an Oriental touch to left-over lamb with a dash of curry powder. Remove meat from the bones, cut it into fairly large-sized pieces and combine with curry sauce, surrounded with a ring of rice, glamorized with pineapple tidbits.

The more condiments the merrier at a curry dinner. Chutney is considered indispensable in curry-eating circles. Other suggested condiments are shredded coconut, salted pecans, or salted peanuts, and diced bananas.

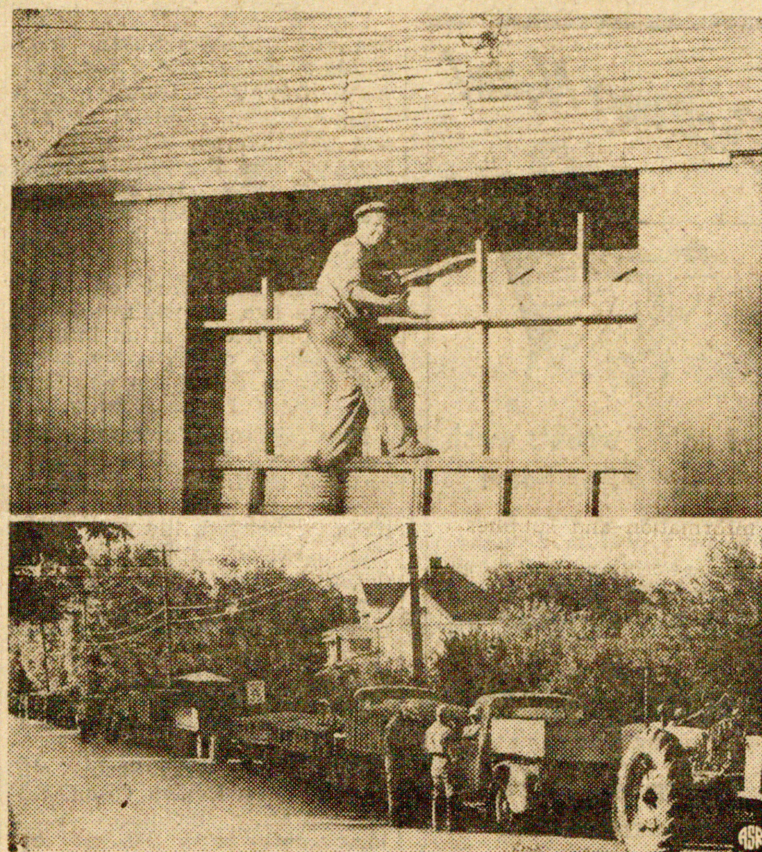

PINEAPPLE LAMB CURRY

- | | |
|---------------------------|------------------------------------|
| 2 lbs. lean lamb shoulder | 1 tsp. chopped parsley |
| 2 tbsps. shortening | 1/4 cup flour |
| 1 tsp. salt | 1 tsp. curry powder |
| 1 bay leaf | 2 tbsps. cold water |
| 6 whole black peppers | 1 can (No. 2) pineapple tidbits |
| 2 small onions, sliced | 3 cups hot cooked rice |
| | 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine |

Cut meat into small cubes and brown in hot shortening. Add enough boiling water to cover meat; add seasonings, onion and parsley. Cover and cook slowly for 2 hours, or until meat is tender. Strain stock; reserve 2 cups. Mix flour and curry powder with cold water and stir into lamb stock. Cook until thickened and add meat. Heat pineapple tidbits in syrup until boiling and drain. Lightly mix rice with melted butter and pack into a well-greased ring mold about 7 inches in diameter; allow to stand a few minutes. Unmold rice onto a large platter and pour curried meat into center. Arrange pineapple tidbits in a ring, separating meat and rice. Serves 6.

On-Farm Storage Now Paying Off

Alfred Gale of Monango, N. Dak., (top photo) is among farmers who solve marketing problems and make money every year by putting grain under storage facility loans and holding it for the high price. But like many others, the Ohio farmers seen in the lower picture waited last year in a four-mile-long line to sell their grain, and could get from 40 to 50 cents a bushel more for that same wheat today—a big enough difference in price to pay for a grain storage building the first year.

Drouth and unusually wide-spread participation in farm price support programs have combined to reduce the worry about farm surpluses, and now farmers who stored their 1953 crops have profited, or are in a position to profit, more than those who sold at harvest time.

On the other hand, those who sold at harvest time are now beginning to realize the cost of their haste to sell.

Clark L. Baker, Indiana PMA state committeeman, has taken farmers to task for paying too much attention to production and not enough to marketing. He points out that farmers frequently can make as much money by selling a crop at the right time as they can by producing that crop.

Writing in the current issue of the Farmstead News, a magazine circulated by Quonset dealers,

Baker says: "No farmer can ever solve his marketing problems until he can store his own crops on his own farm, for sale at the favorable price during the coming year."

Baker pointed out that the difference between the harvest-time price of soybeans and the price at the end of the year was more than enough to have paid for on-farm storage for the beans. Wheat prices also have risen steadily and there are strong indications that both corn and wheat will sell at loan levels or above before next year's crops are harvested—well above harvest-time prices.

Twenty retired farmers of the South Waterloo Church of the Brethren in Iowa have built houses for themselves near their open country church and have turned their farms over to their sons to manage. On a Sunday morning the family pews contain three generations. They are keeping their young people in their community.

The story of this and 15 other rural churches that are holding their young people is described in a bulletin entitled, "A New Gospel of the Soil." It is being sent out on request by the Rural Church Department, Madison N. J.

What goes on in this bowling league? Now we have some one wearing a bell! Oh well, more fun. Got several new members for the gutter ball club. Seems that most of them are from Lehmann's. They couldn't stand the climb up the ladder so they dropped 3 games to INR Beatty to go back down the ladder. Or maybe they want to keep Goebel's company. Goebel's won 2 from H&S Feed Store to cut their lead to 2 games. Vogt's

Dept. store won 2 from Bremen State Bank.
Not so many good scores this week, Chuck Schanz was again high man with 208-551, Frank Roecker 210-539 and Eric Nasebandt with 197-536.

Alfalfa Beats Drouth, Gives High Yields

An annual application of fertilizer gives thick growth, high-yielding alfalfa.

ALFALFA is riding high again as the result of its good performance in the Corn Belt during the drouth of the past two years, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee. In Illinois and other states, alfalfa has made a seeding when red clover, ladino and other legumes have failed, according to soils specialists. It has stood the dry weather and produced respectable yields when the other seedings and plants were entirely dead.

The outlook for a greater acreage of alfalfa has been brightened further with the development of a new and virtually unlimited source of certified seed from California. Certified for use in the Corn Belt, this seed is true-to-type for both winter hardiness and disease resistance.

This year more than 30 million pounds of certified Ranger alfalfa seed are available. Ranger, Atlantic and Buffalo varieties are reported in plentiful supply.

"Top production of alfalfa," says the committee, "calls for good care in establishing the stand. It is especially important for the soil to have plenty of nutrients for the alfalfa when it needs them. Once the stand is vigorously established it is equally important that the alfalfa's year by year nutrient needs are met by top dressing regularly with fertilizer."

"Alfalfa is a heavy user of phosphate and potash. Each ton of alfalfa takes upwards of 15 pounds of phosphate and 45 pounds of potash from the soil. So a plentiful supply of each is required if the crop is to be established and make good yields."

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane Women's Travel Authority

Are you a flat tire when it comes to fixing flats? If you must answer "yes" to this question, here are some tips which may keep your next tire-changing test from becoming a fiasco:

1. Make sure, before you leave home, that all your tire-changing equipment, such as jack, hand pump, lug wrench, are safely in your car and situated so you can get at them quickly.

2. Have your tires, and especially your spare, carefully checked before you leave home.

3. If a flat occurs, try to maneuver onto a firm level surface to change your tire.

4. Carefully block both wheels on the opposite end of the car from the flat.

5. Remove the spare tire from the trunk before elevating your car on the jack.

6. Place your jack at a slight angle opposite to the direction the car tends to slip as it is being raised.

7. Remember that wheel nuts on the left side of the car loosen when turned clockwise and that nuts on the right side are removed counter-clockwise.

8. Loosen the nuts while the wheel is only partially jacked and still resting on the ground. Then jack the car completely to remove the nuts and replace tire.

Remember these hints, and you won't fall flat next time you have to change a tire.

MISS PAINT ROLLER

Miss June Finley of Detroit, Michigan, was last week chosen "Miss Paint Roller of 1954," by the National Association of Paint Roller Manufacturers. Miss Finley gained attention by holding "painting bees" in her apartment. Seems Miss Finley likes to change color schemes frequently, and invites her friends to help her redecorate, using paint rollers and pans which she keeps on hand. Miss Finley will reign over National Paint Roller Week which starts April 25.

ALPINE

Mrs. E. Mrosek
Orland 41-J-1

After preliminary instruction by LaVerne Dombrowsky, Cook County health nurse from the South West district office, Mrs. Roy Walker, PTA chairman, assisted by Mrs. Edward Mrosek, conducted hearing tests at Maue school, Tuesday, March 16.

Chester Williams returned home by plane Friday evening from Philadelphia where he had gone on a short business trip. Because Robert Laing of Orland Park has been called to California on business, the date that had been set for instruction in square dancing at Maue school has been changed from March 26 to April 2.

A group of Alpine friends surprised the Charles Hennings, who have moved nearer Mokena with a house warming party Friday evening.

A potluck supper was enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Walker and her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Deen Taylor attended a St. Patrick's day party given Saturday by the American Legion post No. 72 in Chicago.

Mrs. Garrett Cummins was confined to bed over the weekend with flu.

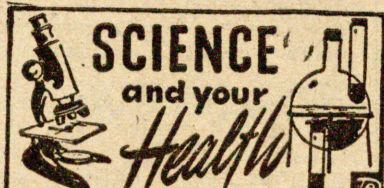

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Walker visited her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cummins in Harvey Sunday evening. The object of their visit was to see the Cummins' new daughter, Catherine Ann.

Mrs. Roy Walker attended the first meeting of what is to be an annual get together of the "Tricky Teens" club, at the home of Mrs. Elaine Boyle, Chicago, Sunday afternoon. The club has a membership of eight ladies who had not seen each other since they had chummed together in their teen age years, and at that time had called them selves the Tricky Teens. They enjoyed talking over old times.

Mrs. Harwood Stellwagen attended all day sewing instruction classes for 4H leaders in St. Paul's church in Blue Island for two consecutive Mondays recently. Leaders took lunches with them.

Patsy Felsch and Carla Mrosek demonstrated their canasta ability when they won a game against Mrs. William Felsch and Miss Sandra Felsch in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Felsch Sunday evening.

YOUR ACHING BURSITIS

By Science Features

Bursitis is a painful and annoying disease that affects 2,500,000 people over the age of forty in the United States. It is an ailment that has no prejudices, attacking white collar workers and laborers, housewives and athletes, people who drive cars and anyone who consistently uses the moving parts of the body.

How democratic a disease it is can be seen from the popular names given to the local areas that are affected: miner's elbow and tennis elbow, nurse's feet, housemaid's knee and tailor's bottom.

Bursitis is, logically, the inflammation of a bursa—a cushion-like sac filled with a lubricating liquid that prevents friction wherever muscles, tendons and bones must move in harmony. There are 140 or more different bursae in the body, the largest of which is located in the shoulder.

Following an injury, unusual exercise, a chill or just by constant motion, a bursa may become infected and cause local pain, swelling, tenderness and limitation of motion.

Treatments usually consist of X-ray therapy, heat applications, massage and now, injections of a hydrocortisone drug such as cortril.

Two doctors recently reported using hydrocortisone to treat tennis elbow and, in four out of the five cases, one injection was sufficient to end the patients' complaints.

New Smut Control

With a new method for disinfecting seed oats, a grain grower now can tell at a glance which oats have been treated for planting and which have not. Shown here at left are healthy oats, while smut-infected oats are at the right.

The new, easy-to-apply liquid (Panogen) is strongly recommended for its effectiveness by leading experimental stations. It gives a reddish color to kernels coated with it so that there is no danger of mistaking this red grain for untreated oats suitable for sale or feed use.

Use of Panogen is a means of getting a crop of oats better in quality and quantity than would be the case with untreated seed.

Guiding Spirit

Lesson for March 28, 1954

"WHAT kind of evidence could convince you that God exists?" The question was put to a famous agnostic who answered it in a popular magazine last fall. He writes: "I think that if I heard a voice from the sky predicting all that was going to happen to me during the next 24 hours, including events that would have seemed highly improbable, and if all these events then proceeded to happen, I might perhaps be convinced at least of the existence of some superhuman intelligence." This agnostic, who has a brilliant mind and knows a great deal about many things, Dr. Foreman has managed to lay bare a considerable ignorance about religion on his part. If this is what he insists on before he will believe in God, he will never get it. If we all waited for the kind of thing he wants to hear, no one would be able to believe in God.

The Spirit, Does Guide, But...

To begin with, it is most unlikely that God will reveal his plans in detail to this gentleman. He has never done it yet, not to prophets and not to apostles, saints or martyrs. It one of the greatest of these who said we walk by faith and not by sight. So it is not likely that God will give an elaborate set of predictions to a man who does not want to believe in the first place. In the second place, the demand made by the agnostic assumes that the future is just as fixed as the past, that there is no such thing as freedom. Not even God can predict one day's events in advance if there is any real freedom in the person to whom he makes the prediction. (This is a different thing from saying God cannot know in advance—that is another proposition. And yet, and yet—the same Christian church which would with one voice deny that God promises to any man infallible knowledge in advance of even one day's happenings, has affirmed from the very beginning that God does guide his people by His Holy Spirit. We believe that Jesus' promise that the Spirit would guide his people into "all truth," has been fulfilled. It may be a mistake (though this writer thinks not) to suppose that the Holy Spirit has more than we think to do with men's discoveries in science, in geography and invention; it is certainly no mistake to suppose that the Spirit guides men and women in their daily lives and problems. The Spirit does guide us... but not as a voice from between the clouds and the moon. How long is it since anybody in your church heard, with his ears, a voice out of the sky? Yet God's voice is heard every day by Christians, the "still small voice," the voice that makes no sound, the "sound of gentle stillness" which is the literal translation of "still small voice."

Spirit of Truth

The most serious practical problem connected with the guidance of the Spirit of God in our daily lives is this, first of all: How can we tell the Spirit's "leading" from notions of our own? When we have an impulse to do or to say something, to go or to wait, is this God that gives us the impulse, or is it only ourselves, or (chilling thought) could it even be an evil spirit? Now we must remember that God can and does speak to us in quite "ordinary" ways. When we are really hungry, we look for food. We don't need any voice from the sky. But in the "natural" instinct of hunger, God who made us is saying to us, "Eat if you want to live." Admitting all this, is there any good way of telling when the voice is God's and when it is not? Yes. One test is this: Is it the voice of truth? Does it push you toward reality or away from it? ... What would you say to a man who told you that God had commanded him to marry five wives?

The Spirit of Jesus

The Holy Spirit and the Spirit of Jesus are not two Spirits but one. This gives us further insight into how we may identify the true divine Spirit, as different from our own. If ever we are tempted to justify something we want to do, by saying it is God's will, let us stop and think first: Is this what Jesus would do? We know enough about Jesus to know what sort of person he was. We know how he lived. We can be quite certain that the Holy Spirit will never lead a man to do an un-Christlike thing.

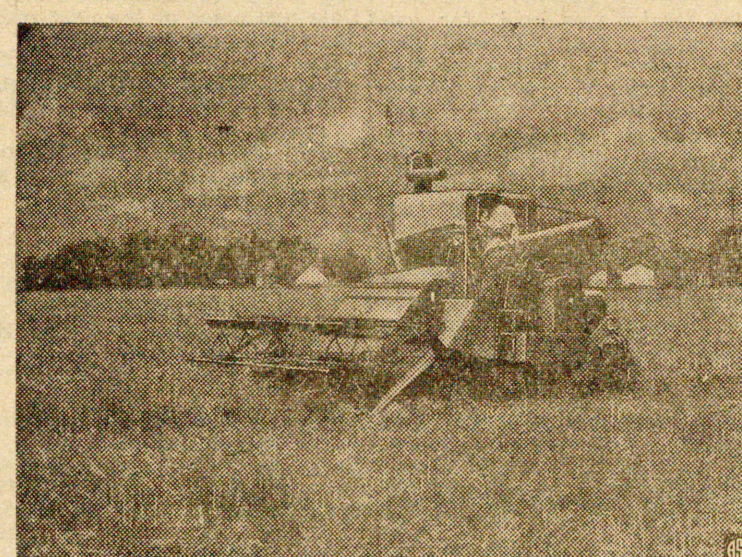

1953 CORN KING

A good crop rotation system and farm management program helped Charles Bender of Beason win the Illinois Corn Crown for 1953. He produced 157.26 bushels of corn per acre in the 1953 National Selected 5-Acre DeKalb Corn Growing Contest—topping the yields of 624 other Illinois contestants whose average yield was 106.11 bushels per acre.

Bender planted his Selected 5-acre contest field May 10th after the usual seed bed preparation. This field had previously been in pasture.

Four Farm Machines In One

Today, thanks to a revolutionary farm machine, the modern farmer-businessman can now harvest all his crops with a compact, easy to handle, self-propelled unit.

The entire machine, called the Uni-Farmor, consists of one basic power (tractor) unit on which can be mounted a combine, a 2-row husker, a picker-sheller, and a forage harvester. All of the harvesting machines are designed for quick, easy mounting on the power unit.

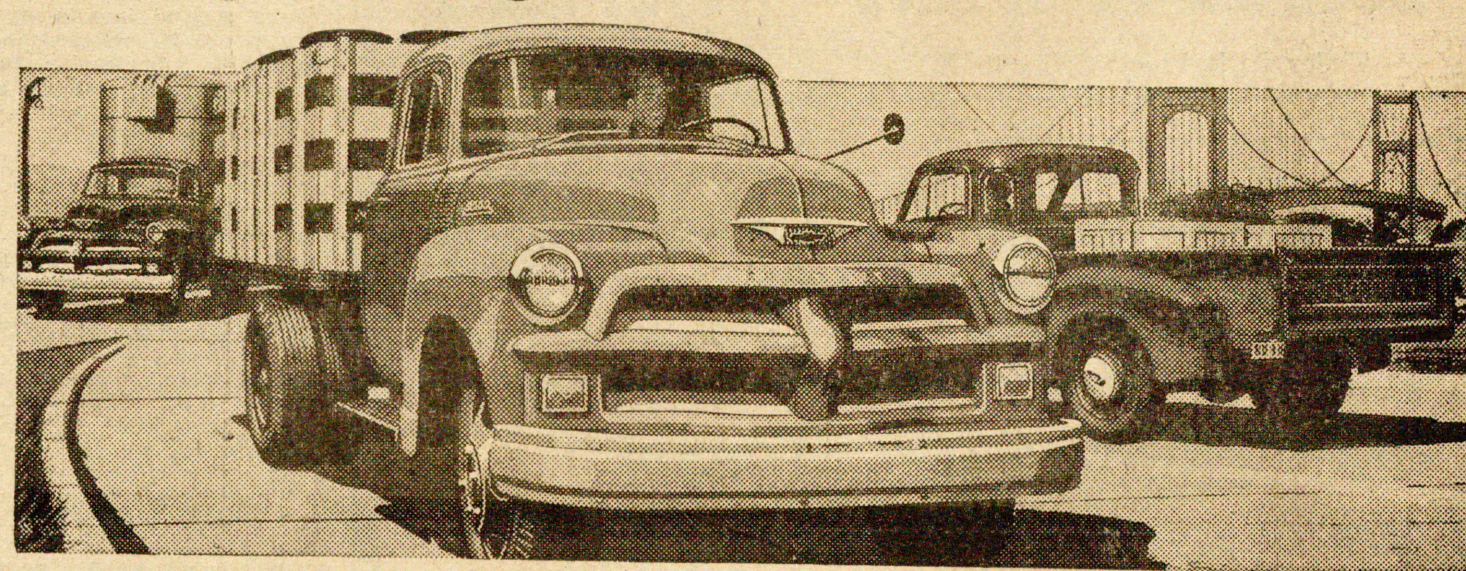

Designed around the harvesting machines, the power unit has a V-type engine cross-mounted to drive the tractor unit and harvesting unit from opposite ends of the crankshaft. This drive arrangement permits a wide range of variable ground speeds without changing the speed of the harvesting unit.

Because one tractor unit is used to power all four harvesting machines, the farmer has a self-propelled unit for all his crops at far less cost than the conventional tractor and "pull-behinds" to do the same jobs. A recent cost comparison study indicates that the saving on the Uni-Farmor is as much as $1,500 or more in some cases.

Other machines are being studied and tested as possible additions to the Uni-Farmor line by the manufacturer, Minneapolis-Moline.

BABSON SAYS—

While so many forecasts for 1954 are discouraging, I give four more reasons why I cannot be so fearful as are many economic writers. Take a look at them and have faith in your country and your future.

In the first place, people have money to buy. I respect what I have said before—"the top 50% of our families have readily convertible savings amounting to a staggering $97 billion." 95% of all families probably have more money in savings accounts than ever before. It is true that installment debts on cars, refrigerators, and television sets have increased during the past twelve months, but these are now being reduced. Moreover, money invested in these durables cannot be written off as "gone." Homes are always a good investment. So long as one is employed, money invested in a home may be as good a reserve as cash in a bank. In short, potential buying power never was greater.

Second, our swiftly rising population—with a record four million births in 1953—is creating a vast number of new wants that must be satisfied. Ten years from now we may have forty million more in our population than we did at the end of World War II. Take all the wants and needs of one individual and multiply by forty million and you will get some idea of what a staggering impact the increase in population alone can have on our economy for some time to come, provided it is of good character. Population alone is not enough; people must have good habits, sound faith, and useful intelligence.

Third, the liberalization of the thinking of our present Administration should help hold our economy high. For example, it has reversed itself on its hard-money policy; credit has been eased. Tax relief for both the individual and business is already under way. This Administration is prepared to go further with higher minimum wages, reasonable aid to the farmers useful public works projects, and broader social security benefits.

Fourth, the millions of warning words and the current skepticism of the future may furnish a considerable element of psychological strength. There is little question but what skepticism has kept many a businessman and consumer from overstepping with regard to future commitments. The pessimistic forecasts may themselves prevent real trouble.

During the past few weeks I have been reading the newspapers and magazine articles published in 1928-1929, preceding the last depression. I find very few warnings. Herbert Hoover had just been elected President and he had chosen an able "businessman's" Cabinet. In fact directly after his election the stock market shot up 20 points. Nearly all the business and financial prophets were then bullish.

Hence, people were not then on their guard. Yet, they should have been warned before it was too late. If warning had been given in 1929 as it has now been given, the great 1930-33 declines in building, textiles, clothing, leather and automobiles would not have been so severe.

After every war, our country has had a letdown. This was true after World War I. Earlier, the same pattern had followed the Spanish American war. An even more severe reaction set in after the Civil War. Yet, most economists say that it is now nearly ten years since World War II and we have had no readjustment of our continued prosperity.

But, is World War II at an end? Or, may we now in World War III? What is the economic difference between a "hot war" and a "cold war"? I do not pretend to know all the answers but I do ask these pertinent questions. After every period of inefficiency, waste, and unrighteousness, there must always be unemployment to punish us for our sins. But has this time come yet? Business and employment for the first half of 1954 could still be at a high level. So—take courage! The "boom" may not continue, but the future is still bright for families who will work hard and use any idle time to study and to build up physical and spiritual health.

Light, Gas Customers Will Get Rebate On January Bills

Commonwealth Edison company and its Public Service company division announced today that they would credit electric and gas customers with an amount equal to the recent rate increase for the month of January.

Beginning with meter readings on and after Feb. 1, the company had been applying the new rates to service from Jan. 1 in accordance with the Illinois Commerce commission's order of January 16, 1954. Under a new agreement, electric customers of Edison and Public Service and gas customers of Northern Illinois Gas company, a new Edison subsidiary, who have paid the higher charges for January, will receive credit on subsequent bill.

The amount of credit each customer will receive will depend on when his meter was read after Feb. 1. Officials said that delay in application of the new rates from Jan. 1 to Feb. 1 would cost the companies an estimated $1,500,000 in revenues.

The Edison company serves 1,050,000 electric customers in Chicago and, through its Public Service division, 700,000 electric customers in over 500 northern Illinois communities. Northern Illinois Gas company serves 451,000 gas customers in 232 northern Illinois communities outside Chicago.

Soil Conservation Contest Opens May 1

Second annual national program to provide recognition of each state's outstanding soil conservation district and most cooperative farmer or rancher, has been announced by Goodyear Tire and Rubber company.

The new program begins on May 1 and all competition is at the state level. Judging is done by state committees comprised of well-known area leaders in the conservation movement.

Winners are awarded a vacation trip to Wigwag guest ranch in Arizona in December and are presented bronze plaques at annual regional meetings of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts.

Edwin Gordon Files For Representative Of 41st District

Edwin C. Gordon, 57, of Warrenville, has announced candidacy for representative of the 41st Senatorial district.

He is a lifetime resident of Illinois, and for 30 years has been a manufacturers' sales representative. He is married and has one son. He is a member of the regular Democratic organization of DuPage county.

Mr. Gordon is interested in modifying the personal property tax law. He said that, if elected, he will introduce a bill in the General Assembly to knock out the law, which he considers unfair to all taxpayers. He said: "Now it is up to you, the voters of the 41st district, if you want to eliminate the personal property tax law. This is your fight; you are the one who pays the personal property tax bill and without your help and vote on April 13, this very important issue cannot be repealed."

Plat OK Up to Health Department

The Cook county map department has recommended that a plat of a subdivision on 206th street near Pulaski road in Rich township be approved by the county public service committee.

However, the committee ordered the plat referred to the County department of health along with all other plats presented to the committee at the last two meetings. After the department has seen the plats, they are to be checked by the building and zoning bureau. According to committee members, the purpose is to ascertain if proper percolation tests have been made and if the plats meet with zoning requirements.

Fulton School News

Room 100 has started an Audubon club. We are studying birds and animals. We are happy to welcome back all the children who have been home with chicken pox.

The children from room 101 sent letters and cards to Benny Bettenhausen who is ill in Silver Cross hospital. We all wish Benny a speedy recovery and hope that he will be back with us soon. The pupils of room 101 are writing short stories with their new spelling words.

Room 107 are very conscious of health habits. Every morning we have been taking turns reading a story about health. This week we made an exhibit of pictures showing health rules we want to follow.

Any observer could tell by our pictures that we are anxious for spring to be here. We have pictures of birds drawn free hand. We also have made kites, bird houses, and pussy willows. Spring is beginning to show its colors in Room 106. We are talking about the signs of it and drawing birds, flowers, pussy willows and making bird houses. And too, we made kites that would flutter prettily in any breeze.

Since this is the time of year most of the children in our room have birthdays it has been fun to read about Sally's birthday cards for Sally which really said "Happy Birthday."

We are also meeting many new friends in our reading stories. It is interesting to note that they are each as different as we in the school room. Writing is proving to be much fun especially now that we can spell some words and write important notes home to Mother.

The children Room 103 are going to have a program for their mothers tomorrow, March 19. They will present five plays. Here are the names of the productions and the children in them. The Gingerbread Boy: Linda Cavanaugh, Dennis Jung, Jack Blitvich, Vernon Laas, Susan Keuch, Sharon Wallenbeck, and Janet Schreiber. Chicken Little: Carol Pennington, Bonnie Clark, David Henke, Andrea Manke, Sharon Cobb, Carol Birmingham, Stephen Danuser. Three Pigs: Carol Bacon, Michael Baskin, Gifford Ewers, Sharon Gratz, Tommy Griebel, Red Riding Hood: Diane Valiga, Linda Sue Larson, Frank Craft, Roma Mogford and Bobby Behling. The Rabbit who Want-ed Black Wings: Linda Herre, Janyce Flurkey, Greg Kent, Joe Schmeberger, Steve Mason and Ken Zimmerman.

Room 14. We are so happy the chicken pox seige is over. Friday everyone was back in school.

We have had fun making a big mural on the wall about Indian life. We learned a lot about our American Indians. Altho Spring is still around the corner, we are thinking about it. Last week we all made pictures of our thoughts of spring. We made pictures of jumping rope, playing marbles, flying kites, and other games we will be playing soon.

We are making posters on health too. We are learning that good balanced meals make us strong, healthy and help us to grow. —Mrs. Hillenbrand.

Christian Science Churches

The value of humility, patience and obedience in learning the nature of spiritual reality and in experiencing the divine healing power will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday. The Lesson-Sermon is entitled "Reality."

The challenging definition of worship given by the prophet Micah will be included in the readings from the Bible.

"Wherewith shall I come before the Lord, and bow myself before the high God? Shall I come before him with burnt offerings, with calves of a year old? He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?"

Among the selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following:

"What we most need is the prayer of fervent desire for growth in grace, expressed in patience, meekness, love, and good deeds. To keep the commandments of our Master and follow his example, is our proper debt to him, and the only worthy evidence of our gratitude for all that he has done. Outward worship is not of itself sufficient to express loyal and heartfelt gratitude, since he has said: 'If ye love me, keep my commandments.'"
